Each of our 32 Indiana State Park properties has a unique natural and historic heritage. Among the varied habitats ranging from woodlands to prairie to wetlands and lakes, you can discover a rich diversity of bird life. The joys of birding can provide a rewarding experience for the patient observer. Take time to sit quietly or walk slowly down a trail and watch for the more secretive birds. Visit our nature centers to watch birds at the feeders. As of this printing in 2018, Indiana has 420 birds on its official checklist. The birds on this Indiana State Park list are those that you are most likely to see at our properties across the state. The full list is at indianaudubon.org/official-ibrc-bird-checklist. Download a complete checklist of those species at indianaudubon.org.
